MEDICINAL.

This important organ weighs but about three pounds, and all the blood in a living person (about three gallons) passes through it at least once every half hour, to have the bile and other impurities strained or filtered from it. Bile is the natural purgative of the bowels, and if the Liver becomes torpid it is not separated from the blood, but carried through the veins to all parts of the system. and in trging to escape through the pores of the skin, causes it to turn yellow or a dirty brown color. The stomach becomes diseased and Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation, Hesdache Biliousness, Jaundice, Chills, Malarial Fevers, Piles, Sick and Sour Stomach, and general debility fellow. MER-RELUS HEPATINE, the great vegetable discovery for textidity. discovery for torpidity, causes the Liver to throw off from one to two ounces of bile each time the blood passes through it, as long as there is an excess of bile; and the effect of even a few doses upon yellow complexion or a brown, dirty locking skin, will aston-ish all who try it—they being the first symp-toms to disappear. The cure of all billious diseases and Liver complaint is made certain by taking Hepatine in accordance with directions Hoadscho is generally cured in twenty minutes, and no disease that arises from the Liver can exist if a fair trial is given. Take no pills when you can get

The fatality of Consumption or Throat and Lung Diseases, which sweep to the grave at least one third of all death's victims, arises from the Opium or Morphine treatment, which simply stupefies as the work of death goes on. $10,000 will be paid if Opium or Morphine or any preparation of Opium, Morphine or Prussic Acid can be found in the Globe Flower Cough Syrup, which has cured people who are living to day with one remaining lung. No greater wrong can be done than to say than Consumption is incurable. The GLOSE FLOWER COUGH SYRUP will cure it when all other means have failed Also Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchius and all diseases of the throat and lungs. Road the testimonials of the Hon. Atex. H. Stephens and others in our bookfree to all at the drug stores Take no Troches or Lozenges for Sore Throat, when you can get Globe Flower Syrup at same price. For sale by all Dauggists. PRICE 25c and $1.

Grave mistakes are made in the treatment of all diseases that arise from poison in the blood. Not one case of Secolula, Syphilis, White Swalling, Ulcerous Sores and Sain Disease in a thousand is treated without the use of Mercury in some form. Moreury rots the bones, and the disease it products are worse than any other kind of blood or skin disease can be. Doctor PERBERTON'S STILLINGIA or QUEEN'S DELIGHT is the only madiging upon which a hone of recovonly medicine upon which a hope of recovery from Scretula, Syphilis and Mercurial diseases in all stages, can be reasonably founded, and that will cure Cancer. $10,000 will be paid by the proprietors if Mercury, or any ingredient not purely veretable and barmless can be found in it. Price by all Druggists $1.

VEGETINE

HEROWN WORDS. Baltimore, Md., Feb. 13th, 1877.-Mr. H. R. Stevens: Dear Sir-Since several years I have Stevens: Dear Sir—Since several years I have got a sore and very painful foot. I had some physicians, but they couldn't cure me. Now I have heard of your Vegetiae from a lady who was sick fer a long time, and became all well from your Vegetiae; and after I had used one bottle of Vegetiae; and after I had used one bottle, the pains left me, and it began to heal, and then I bought one other bottle, and so I take it yet. I thank God for this remedy and yourself; and wishing every sufferer may pay attention to it. It is a blessing for health. tion to it. It is a blessing for health. Mrs. C. Krabe, 638 West Balt. st.

SAFE AND SURE.

Mr. H. R. Stevens: In 1872 your Vegetine Mr. H. R. Stevens: In 1872 your Vegetine was recommended to me, and, yielding to the persuasions of a friend, I consented to try it. At the time I was suffering from general debility and nervous prostration, superinduced by overwork and irregular habits. Its wonderful strengthening and curative properties seemed to affect my debilitated system from the first dose; and under its persistent use I rapidly recovered, gaining more than usual health and good feeling. Since then I have not hesitated to give Vegetire my most unqualified endorsement, as being a safe, sure and powerful agent in prometing health and restoring the wasted system to new life and energy. Vogetine is the only medicine I use; and as long as I live I never expect to find a better. Yours truly,
W. H. CLARK, 120 Monterey st.,
Alleghany, Pennsylvania.

VEGETINE

THE BEST SPRING MEDICINE. Charlestown-H. R. Stevens: Dear Sir-This is to certify that I have used your "Blood Preparation" in my family for several years, and think that for Scrofula or Cankerous Humors or Ebeumatic Affections it cannot be excelled; and as a blood purifier and spring medicine it is the best thing I have over used, and I have used almost everything. I can cheerfully recommend it to any one in need of such a medicine.

Yours, respectfully, Mrs. A. A. DINSMORE, 19 Russell st.

VEGETINE

WHAT IS NEEDED. Boston, Feb. 13th, 1871.—H. R. Stevens, esq.: Dear Sir—About one year since I found myself in a feeble condition from general debility. Vegetine was strongly recommended to me by a riend who had been much benefitted by its use.

I procured the article, and, after using several betties, was restored to health, and discontinued its use. I feel quite confident that there is no medicine superior to it for those complaints for which it is especially prepared, and would cheerfully recommand it to these who feel that they need something to restore them to perfect health.
Respectfully yours. U. L. PETTINGILL,
Firm of S. M. Pettingill & Co.,
No. 10 State street, Boston.

ALL HAVE OBTAINED RELIEF. South Berwick, Me., Jan. 17th, 1872.—H. R. Stevens, eq.—Dear Sir: I have had dyspepsis in its worst form for the last ten years, and have taken hundreds of dollars' worth of medicines without obtaining any relief. In September last I commenced taking the Vegetine, since which the property of the prope time my health has steadily improved. My food digests well, and I have gained fifteen poundso. flosh. There are several others in this place taking Vegetine, and all have obtained relief. Yours truly, Cabine: Meetings in Lincoln's Time. A correspondent of the Cincinnati Ecquirer, giving an account of a talk with Mr. Usher, at one time a member of Lincola's Cabinet, reports him as saying :-"There hardly was ever such a thing as a regular Cabinet meeting in the sense of form. Under Johnson and under Grant I have seen a table with chairs placed in regular order around it, as if for Cabinet council. Nothing of that kind occurred in Mr. Lincoln's Cabinet. Seward would come in and lie dow on a settee. Stacton hardly ever stayed more than five or ten minutes. Sometimes Seward would tell the President the cutline of some paper he was writing on a state matter. Lincoln generally stood up and walked about. In fact, every member of that Cabinet ran his own department in his own way. I don't suppose that such an historie period was ever so simply op :rated from the centre of powers. Lincoln trusted all his subordinates, and they worked out their own performances."

"What sort of a man was Stanton in his rela tions to you and his associates?" "Well, Stanton always seemed to me to be sick or suilen, dyspeptie, or something of that kind." He would come into the room and say: "Mr. President, have you anything for me to day?" Lincoln would say, 'I guess there is nothing, Stanton "Well, Mr. President, I bid you good morning, as I am very busy at my office." That often happened on Cabinet day.

"Did you ever see Mr. Lincoln out of temper with his Cabinet?" "I think I have. Yes, I remember one event. Lincoln had issued a proclamation stating that when one tenth of the voters of a Congressional district, or a part of a State, resumed their position in the Union, and elected a member of Congress, they should be recognized. as much as the whole constituency. Chest remark, 'Instead of saving voters, I suggest that you put in citizen?' I saw in a minute what Chase was driving at. This question had arisen as to who were citizens, and Mr. Bates, the Attorney General, had pronounced negroes to be citizens. The law of the administration, therefore, was that negroes were included in citizenship. As I walked away from the Cabi net that day Chose was at, my side, and he said: 'Mr. Usher, we must stick to it that citizens, and not voters, be named in that proclamation. I turned about when he had get to the Treasury, and walked back on the plank which stood at that time to the White House, and I told Lincoln that Chase was very pertinacious about the word citizers instead of voters. 'Yes,' said Lincolo, 'Chase thinks that the negroes, as cisizens, will not vote to make him President." THE INDIANS AND THEIR DEAD .- A girl about twelve years old had died, and her relatives had appointed that evening as the beginning of her funeral. After death takes place in an Indian village, the weeping and wailing takes place immediately, and continues among the relatives in the wildest and most demonstrative manner for the wildest and most demonstrative manner for many days. The evening before it had reached its highest pitch, the family of the dead girl had given away everything they had possessed, and were then engaged in pulling down the very lodge that sheltered them, and cutting the buffalo robes that composed its sides into small pieces, while the mother of the girl had chopped off some of her fingers with a butcher-knife, and was being pounded by sympathizing friends to

was being pounded by sympathizing friends to keep from fainting.

All had their faces painted black and were moaning as only a grief stricken Indian can The woods and fantastic lodges and waird faces of the Indians, lit up as they were by the ficheror the indians, in up as toey were by the incher-ing glare of a large camp fire, formed a picture at once grotesque and startling. When our par-ty visited the camp in the morning, the gir's family, weak from hunger and loss of sleep, were still keeping up the barbarous wake, although the corpse had been placed upon its burisl plat-form in some secluded spot on the prairie, where it is to be hoped the wild flowers and birds will watch over it evermore. Riding out from the dezen or so tepees that comprised the village, Mr. Hoyt and myself made a short cut across a curve in the trail and discovered a dead Indian on a platform of stakes, about ten feet above the prairie. At first, like all whites cut here, we set out with the determination to take what trophies might be on the rack, but upon reading the prayers of his friends written in English and pinned to one of the stakes that he might not be disturbed, as Yellowface, the dead man, had always helped the white man and was a friend of all who passed that way, we left the grave undisturbed. The Indian had been only there since April, and had kis gun, tomahawk, knife and beaded ornaments all upon his person.—Montana Correspondence.

FASHION AND CHILDREN, -A satirioal draughteinan represents two mothers wrapped up in furs and each leading a child with bare legs and baro neck, who meet in the snow cov ered streets and stop to winder "why children now a days are so subject to diphthetia." Al though the picture is not fully entistantory as explatoing the common cause of diphtheria, is nevertheless convers a lesson in the contrast between the means taken to protect the mothers as compared with those for their children. Fishion does not now condemn the little one. to bare legs, as it did a few years ago, but it are in a great part due to dirt falling into it, as still fails to allow them as much covering and well as to the exposure of the milk during the protection as their olders find necessary. Mothers who think more of their children than they do of what Mrs. Grandy may say will wrap their children up warmly, and cover their legs with something more than eitten or meriae hose when they let them out for the fresh air. Phila, Ledger.

A man with a rusty beard that ran down to a peak, and a rusty hat that ran up to a peak, boarded a Long Island Railroad train at Mineola, the other afternoor, took a seat near the store and fell into a gentle slumber. In a few misutes a brakenian opened the door and shouted, "Queens." The slumbering passenger, slightly shifted his position, and muttered, "The pool's yours; I strid it on jacks."-S. S. Observer.
